

College Success Blueprint: Turning SmarterMeasure Results into Actionable Goals

Welcome to college! This ‘College Success Blueprint’ is designed to help you organize your tasks, manage your time effectively, and set meaningful goals to start your semester strong. Alongside these tips, you can use your SmarterMeasure scores to learn more about yourself and position yourself for success as a college student.

SmarterMeasure is usually done when you first start college and looks at different areas across as many as eight scales that can impact your success: Life Factors, Individual Attributes, Reading Rate & Recall, LMS Competency, Typing Speed & Accuracy, Technical Competency, Technical Knowledge, and Learning Styles. By understanding your SmarterMeasure results, you can identify your strengths and areas for improvement in each scale. Note: your college may not be offering all sections of SmarterMeasure.

This blueprint includes open-ended questions to encourage your reflection and interaction, directing you toward specific actions based on your scores. Reflect on these questions and take advantage of the resources included in this blueprint and support provided to you by your college or university. This will help you connect with valuable resources and support systems, ensuring you’re in the best position to thrive in your academic journey.

My Smarter Action Plan: Use this downloadable and printable plan to track and document your goals. It’s designed to help you stay organized and focused on your academic and personal growth. For additional support and guidance, feel free to reach out to your advisor or other campus resources.
